

By Susan Wasserman

$9.95 Paperback or ebook

Publication Date: 2016

Juvenile non-fiction/School & Education

ISBN-13: 978-1619845602

<http://www.theparagonexpedition.com>

The Paragon Expedition™ is a modern-day children's adventure story about a lost expedition that has left twin boys stranded on the moon. It intertwines with the story of the great Antarctic explorer Sir Ernest Shackleton, whose legendary perseverance saved his 57 men from certain extinction in the freezing polar ice, stranded without their ship, but not without hope.

The Paragon Expedition™ is told from both the view of the Earth and the Moon and allows children to dream once again with the same wonder explorers have experienced throughout human history, looking up at the Moon and dreaming of their futures. The story celebrates what humankind has achieved and what we hope to accomplish tomorrow.

Coming Soon!

Translations in Arabic, Chinese, French, German,
Hebrew, Hindi, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese,
Spanish and Tamil

Susan Wasserman is a writer, attorney, mother and grandmother living in central Ohio. She wrote The Paragon Expedition as a joyous celebration of the human adventure in space. As the mother of five including twins, she sees this story as a living tribute to our heroes, past and present, and to our next step forward to our future.

Published by Gatekeeper Press / Distribution by Ingram Content Group

Contact: office@theparagonexpedition.com for inquiries and International Copyright sales